REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Board of Education, Winchester, N. H.

I hereby submit for your consideration my fifth annual report of the Winchester public schools. The statistics are for the year ending July 15, 1916.

Some progress has been made in the adequate equipment of the schools with reference and text books. A year ago we completed the furnishing of all classes with copies of the newly adopted series of arithmetics. These books have proved very satisfactory. They are free from obsolete material, puzzles, and other wasteful and unnecessary matter. They contain a logical development of processes and a large amount of drill work, and are in harmony with the demands of commercial and industrial efficiency. From term to term as the geographies in use have worn out the Tarr and McMurry's "New Geography" has been introduced into the grades. All the graded schools have now been supplied and with the opening of the new school year we shall be able to provide copies for the classes in the mixed schools. Considerable reading matter has been put into the class rooms but the supply is yet insufficient. In September a series of music books, the Progressive Music Series, was adopted and supplied to all graded schools where the music is under supervision. All supplies have increased in cost, some have doubled in price. An increase in the appropriation for supplies could be used to the increased efficiency of the schools.

The local board of health in accordance with instructions of the state board for the strict enforcement of the law relating to vaccination requested that every pupil not vaccinated be excluded from the schools until he was vaccinated or presented a certificate from a physician declaring him to be an unfit subject for vaccination. The teachers were directed to comply with this rule. I am able to report that compliance with the law has been practically complete.

My work has consisted largely in visits to the class rooms. This involves observation of the discipline, instruction, and other school conditions, conference with teachers, criticism and suggestion, testing of class work, conduct of recitations, and some teachers' meetings. The difficulty of getting together teachers who have similar work bars the attempt to hold more frequent meetings. It is a pleasure to speak commendatory words of the teaching force. Almost without exception, our teachers are industrious, enthusiastic and progressive.

With good school systems everywhere we are striving to make our instruction less bookish and more real; less abstract and remote from children's interest and more practically and vitally related to the children's daily life. We are trying to cultivate in the children greater initiative, independence and logical reasoning power in place of so great dependence upon the teacher, and to train the child to think of his life as a part of the common life of the community in which he lives.

In carrying out these ideals we are eliminating from the program useless topics and subjects and reducing the remaining subjects to their minimum essentials, in order to gain time for introduction of those subjects more practical in their nature and yet equally educative in their influence.

It is obvious to all thoughtful citizens, that education consists, not only in imbibing knowledge from books, but also in training for efficient doing. This being so, we need in our program more practical courses. We have no sewing and cooking, no manual training, no drawing, no systematic training in games upon the playground. As soon as possible these activities should be included in our school program, as they will aid materially in training the children to think and to act rather than simply to remember.

The enrollment in the high school this year is 61. These have been registered as three specials, five seniors, eighteen juniors, thirteen sophomores, and twenty-two freshmen. For one cause and another seven have left school since enrollment, leaving a present membership of fifty-four. By courses these are enrolled as follows: Thirty in the commercial course, nine in the general course, and sixteen in the academic course.

Twenty-four pupils were graduated from the eighth grade in June. Of these eighteen entered the local high school.

For the sake of record I insert here the high school program of studies for the year 1916-17.

The whole number of different pupils for the school year was 441; 228 boys and 213 girls. Of these 59 (22 boys and 37 girls) attended the high school. The average membership was 379, the average attendance was 355. The per cent of attendance was 93.3. This shows a gain over last year of 25 in enrollment, of 24 in average membership, and of 15 in average attendance. In per cent of attendance on the other hand there is a falling off of 2.4.

Music has come to be recognized as a vital part of a child's education. As far as the public school is concerned its purpose is to make of the children not musicians but music lovers. We have strengthened the work in music this year by the employment of a supervisor. An arrangement was made with the Keene normal school to supply our needs in this subject, and Miss Eleanor Johnson and Miss Margaret Whittemore in turn have made weekly visits to the schools of our three villages, giving instruction, and directing the work of the class teachers in the subject.

Within the last few years there has been an attempt to find definite standards by which to measure the attainments of pupils in the essential elements of an education. Some success has been achieved in the development of uniform standards which may be applied to any school. Dr. Leonard P. Ayres of the Russell Sage Foundation has arranged a scale for the measurement of ability in spelling. The data of this scale was computed from the spellings of 70,000 children in 84 cities throughout the country. These tests were applied to the children in grades 3 to 8 inclusive. The results are tabulated as follows:

19 fourth grade pupils tested in spelling ability—5, V; 7, IV; 6, III; 4, II; 2, I.

15 fifth grade pupils tested in spelling ability—5, VII; 4, IV; 3, III; 4, II.

16 third grade pupils tested in spelling ability—2, V; 2, VI; 3, V; 2, IV; 1, III.

18 sixth grade pupils tested in spelling ability—9, VIII; 2, VII; 4, V; 3, IV.

27 seventh grade pupils tested in spelling ability—11, VIII; 6, VII; 5, VI; 3, V; 2, IV.

24 eighth grade pupils tested in spelling ability—15, VIII; 4, VII; 4, VI; 1, V.

While these results indicate a good average, they are interesting in that they show a wide range of ability in each class. Children of grade V for instance show a range of spelling ability from grade III to grade VII, five grades of ability. Grade VI contains 11 children who spelled better than the standard and seven pupils who were below standard in ability. These conditions disclose a loss of efficiency in the teaching of spelling and indicate that more individual training is needed. We are trying to overcome this waste by requiring that each child shall keep a record of all the words he misspells in his written work and by holding him responsible for the learning of his own personal list of misspelled words. Tests in reading have been conducted to ascertain individual abilities in speed of silent reading and in power to reproduce in writing the ideas he has read. These tests demonstrate to the teacher the varying capacities of her pupils and enable her to conform her instruction to the discovered needs of her pupils.

In all of our endeavors our primary consideration is what do children need to make them good and efficient citizens and how best can we adapt our instruction to the realization of those needs.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL,
Superintendent.
